Trip Overview

ABOUT THIS PACKAGE

The philosophy of Argentario Resort is born from the search for well-being and respect for the environment: everything is built around these concepts.
The luxury hotel includes private rooms and villas with an incredible view of the golf course, the landscape of Monte Argentario and the lagoon of Orbetello. Each design room is equipped with the latest technology, and has a terrace thanks to a meticulous research of materials and furniture.
The 5-star hotel in Porto Ercole is surrounded by the thousand-year-old cork oak and olive forests of the Tuscan Maremma, home to hares, deer, squirrels, wild boars and a variety of bird species. For those who love outdoor sports, the hotel offers 2 padel courts, 2 tennis courts, 2 jogging courses and a small soccer field. The association of golf professionals - the PGA - has chosen this course as the national headquarters of Italy, with the title of PGA National Golf Course Italy.

ARGENTARIO GOLF CLUB

Among the 18 panoramic holes with mostly small greens, two dominate the sea and the lagoon, one is immersed in the Mediterranean vegetation, and another features water hazards running along one side of the green. A refreshing breeze mitigates the temperature and adds an extra challenge to the game which, on this course, requires a combination of accuracy and power.

SATURNIA GOLF CLUB

An 18-hole championship course, spanning 6,316 yards on 70 acres and meticulously maintained with Saturnia's natural thermal waters. Designed by Ronald Fream and the Golf Plan, each hole has its own characteristics. Numbers 1, 2, 6 and 13 are particularly challenging with lakes and bunkers to negotiate. There is also a 9-hole course that is less challenging but just as impressive.

ROYAL GOLF LA BAGNAIA

The prestigious project was designed by renowned golf architect Robert Trent Jones Jr. and skilfully created to blend with the ancient melody of the surrounding area. La Bagnaia Resort has risen to the top in Tuscany golfing circles and offers you one of the most interesting golf courses in Italy.

IL PELAGONE GOLF CLUB

The course is pleasantly hilly in places and offers spectacular tee shots. The 18th hole is particularly noteworthy for its unforgettable view of Elba and the Tyrrhenian Sea. This challenging course is up to international standards and, with a golf school, a large practice area, putting greens, pitching/chipping greens and practice bunkers, it offers the perfect conditions for a high level golf experience.
